Athletic family keep on running

A FAMILY of adventurous runners from Haverhill are making their way around the country taking on different challenges.

The Miller family – dad Steve; sons James, 27, and Peter, 25; daughter Sarah, 22; and Peter's girlfriend, Emma Moss, 25 – embarked on their latest challenge on Sunday, in Ulverston in Cumbria.

Although the birthplace of one half of comedy duo Laurel and Hardy, the Hoad Hill Half Marathon is no laughing matter.

Runners are challenged to make it across moorland, coastal footpaths, a canal towpath and country lanes before finishing with a tough climb up the 150-metre Hoad Hill on the edge of Ulverston.

@rach_mc9CN

Steve Miller said: "As you can imagine coming from East Anglia we aren't very used to hilly terrain and there are a lot of good fell runners in the event."

Peter only started to run seriously two years ago and having finished fifth in last year's race he has started some serious training hoping to get in the top three and get his first ever trophy.

Peter managed to smash his target by winning the race by over a minute, finishing in 1:37:56.

James came in 17th behind his little brother but still respectable in a field of 103 finishers.

For daughter Sarah, the Hoad Hill race marked her fourth marathon in 12 months.

The family, who are members of Haverhill Running Club, are no strangers to extreme challenges, competing in races across Asia and Europe.

Steve said: "We all like travelling and competing and last year Peter, Sarah and myself ran from Asia to Europe over the Bosphorus Bridge in the Istanbul Marathon last November."

"In September, Peter, Emma, Sarah, myself and my Partner Debbie Hartshorn are going to Budapest to do the half-marathon, and, for the kids' birthdays, I have treated them to entries for the Great South run in Portsmouth in October!"

FIRE

Man's life is saved by a smoke alarm in dramatic house blaze

A MAN has a smoke alarm to thank for his life after a fire gutted his home.

Damian Austin, 42, was asleep when flames took hold of the house in Bladon Way, Haverhill at around 9.30am on Sunday.

His sister Selina says he only just escaped the house as flames and smoke engulfed the first floor.

"My brother was home alone – my mum and dad were on their way to see grandchildren in the Midlands," she said.

"They had a phone call from someone they know who could see the smoke, so they turned around and came straight home.

"The smoke alarm woke him, it saved his life, he had been asleep in the next room.

"By the time he came downstairs and called 999, the first floor was all filled with smoke."

Ms Austin, who lives in the town's Osprey Road, says she could see the smoke as she raced to the family home.

"It was awful," she said. "I'm just grateful my brother got out safe and nobody was hurt.

RACHAEL
@rach_mc9CN

"Everything on the top floor, at least, is gone. I don't think there's any way to get upstairs.

"It's hard to tell where to go from here."

Fire crews from across Suffolk and Cambridgeshire attended the blaze after receiving multiple calls reporting smoke.

Firefighters had to abandon fighting the fire from inside after the structure became unsafe.

Station commander for Suffolk Fire and Rescue Service, Dale Nunn, said: "When we arrived the fire was well developed on the first floor and quickly spread to the rafters and loft space.

"Crews did enter the house using breathing apparatus but it was then deemed an unsafe structure and crews withdrew.

"It was external fire fighting from that point on."

Neighbour Mark Ives, who lives on the corner of Bladon Way and Blenheim Close, said he heard what sounded like gunshots at around 9.30am.

He said: "I heard all this cracking, almost like gunshots but it was just the glass breaking.

"You could see the flames at the front window and just panicked that it would spread.

"The smoke was coming out the roof and people just wanted to make sure the family were safe and everyone was out."

The entire roof of the house, which was built by the Austins in 1971, has disintegrated and the fire service confirmed the family would not be able to return for some time.

They had put out the fire by noon but were still monitoring the home in the afternoon for potential hotspots.

Ms Austin said she thought fire crews had established where the fire had started in the bedroom. They were still investigating the cause, but believed it might be electrical, she added.

Two neighbouring homes had to be temporarily evacuated because of the smoke.

School bus transformed into homeless shelter

RACHAEL MCMENEMY

@rach_mc9CN

A SCHOOL bus has been renovated to be used as a homeless shelter.

The double decker 966 bus used to run between Haverhill and Clare, but now it will act as a mobile hostel with bunks for up to 14 rough sleepers, and the lower deck can be converted to four more.

The bus was donated from the Haverhill depot of Stephensons bus company just an hour after it completed its last school run in January.

Gareth Brenland, 41, and his partner Sarah, 40, both quit their jobs in March this year to take on the renovation full time.

Gareth said: "We picked the bus on the same morning it finished its last school run. We had asked lots of big bus companies like Arriva and Stagecoach but none were suitable and then we saw this one on eBay."

"I called up Stephensons, and they said they would give it to us for free. I didn't know what to think, we were committed to doing it then."

Gareth was inspired to start a shelter after he and his partner came across a rough sleeper in November last year.

He said: "We went on a date night in November and saw a rough sleeper. At dinner

PROJECT OF PASSION: Gareth Brenland, who has renovated an old school bus and turned it a shelter for the homeless. Right, the bus we asked for them to box up some food to take to him, but when I went back out he was gone.

"A few days later, he was still on my mind. I said: 'I have to do something'. I put a call out for warm clothes and sleeping bags. We started thinking about can we open a cafe or training centre, and then Sarah saw an article about a bus on the Isle of Wight, and we started looking for a bus."

Gareth, who used to own an electric and property business, did almost all the work himself and named the bus Tiffers, after his daughter Tiffani.

Almost all of the estimated £25,000 of work was paid for using crowdfunding and donations.

On the top deck, each bunk comes with its own LED night light, USB charging socket and privacy curtains. In an emergency, the downstairs seating area can be converted to an extra four beds to sleep 18.

There will also be wash facilities, shower and a toilet, a functional kitchen, which will serve breakfast, lunch, teas and coffees throughout the day. Main meals will be provided from an outside company free of charge thanks to The Teapot Project. There is also a chill out area and a PC area for guests to use for applications and researching.

The last touches are being made to the shelter, with the service launching in Ipswich on August 28, travelling around the city to help people most in need.

A shop has also been set up selling clothes and other items to raise funds for the shelter.

Crowdfunding is ongoing to help cover the cost of road tax and insurance.

You can donate at justgiving.com/crowdfunding/tiffers.

CRIME

MOST CRIMES: Haverhill High Street tops the town's list

Town's crime hotspots named

FIGURES released to the News following a Freedom of Information request have revealed the most crime-ridden streets in Haverhill.

The roads included in the list had the highest number of crimes recorded between 2015 and 2017.

In total there were 4,873 offences in Haverhill over the last two years.

High Street topped the list with 326 crimes, while less than half this number – 162 – took place in second place Cangle Road.

Matt Paisley, Acting Inspector for Sudbury and Haverhill, said: "We have seen significant changes in the way some types of crimes are recorded and categorised, following changes in legislation and National Crime Recording Standards, which are likely to have impacted on these figures. We are now far more robust in what we record and how we record it.

"The increase does not necessarily mean more crime is happening, rather there is a greater consistency when recording crime and victims recognising what constitutes an offence and feeling more able to come forward."

He added: "However, we do review patterns of crime reported to us to identify hotspot areas and conduct regular patrols to ensure we maintain a consistent police presence, including at late night venues, to detect and deter offences.

"We also recognise that some of those who commit crime are vulnerable so, as well as enforcement activity, we work with partner agencies to offer specialist support services."

1. High Street

Haverhill's main street recorded 326 crimes over the last two financial years.

However, the number of crimes recorded has fallen in the last 12 months.

In 2015-16 181 crimes

@rach_mc9CN

were recorded, compared to 145 in 2016-17.

Crimes that made up the total number included arson, possession of an offensive weapon and drug trafficking.

2. Cangle Road

Over the two years, 162 crimes were recorded, nearly half of that reported in High Street.

Possession of weapons, public fear alarm or distress and violence with injury were some of the crimes committed.

However, the number of crimes also fell here with 85 crimes recorded in 2015-16, compared to 77 in 2016-17.

3. Camps Road

There were 147 crimes in Camps Road between 2015 and 2017.

However, despite being third on the list, the area saw the largest reduction in recorded crime among the top 10 with 27 fewer incidents in 2016-17 compared to 2015-2016.

There were 60 in the last 12 months, compared to 85 the year before.

Crimes included assault, harassment and possession of drugs.

4. Jubilee Walk

Arson, possession of drugs and violence with injury were among the 100 crimes recorded in Jubilee Walk in the last two years.

The number of crimes went down from 56 in 2015-16 to 44 in 2016-17.

5. Lord's Croft Lane

A total of 94 crimes were recorded in Lord's Croft Lane.

Recorded crime fell from 48 in 2015-16 to 46 in 2016-17.

Crimes included bike theft, common assault and battery and criminal damage.

6. Haycocks Road

Over two years 90 crimes were recorded.

Haycocks Road is the first street on the list where crime increased.

It went up from 44 in 2015-16 to 46 in 2016-17.

Criminal damage, harassment causing alarm or distress and interfering with a motor vehicle were among the crimes recorded.

7. Chalkstone Way

In total 85 crimes were recorded in Chalkstone Way.

Recorded crime fell from 48 in 2015-16 to 37 in 2016-17.

Crimes in the last two years have included arson, harassment and theft.

7. Queen Street

In joint seventh place is Queen Street, with 85 recorded crimes over the two years.

Recorded crime fell by one – from 43 in 2015-16 to 42 in 2015-2016.

Assault, criminal damage and shoplifting were among the offences recorded.

8. Burton End

A total of 82 crimes were recorded in Burton End.

The street saw the biggest rise in crime with 59 incidents recorded in 2016-17, compared to 23 in 2015-16.

Crimes recorded included aggravated vehicle taking, criminal damage and sexual offences.

9. Withersfield Road

Withersfield Road was home to 69 crimes.

Again crime fell from 39 in 2015-16 to 30 in 2016-17.

Assault, dwelling burglary, possession of drugs and robbery were among the crimes recorded.

10. Abercorn Court

Over the last two years, 53 crimes were recorded here.

Climate change a bigger threat

DONALD Trump said: "North Korea best not make any more threats to the United States. They will be met with fire and fury like the world has never seen."

The world should fear Mother Nature far more than Kim Jong Un!

If Donald Trump continues to ignore climate change – his latest madcap move being to expand oil drilling in the Arctic and Atlantic oceans to push for US energy dominance in the global market – she will unleash a million times more "fire and fury" than any amount of nuclear bombs.

And, at the present rate of global oil consumption, it could quite easily happen within the next 25 years.

Plans to stop selling petrol-driven cars come 2040 will amount to shutting the stable door after the horse has bolted.

Even now, Americans in the Arctic are facing the disruptive effects of three record-breaking warm years following decades of rising temperatures, rising seas and melting permafrost meaning that dozens of villages inhabited by Alaskan native peoples need to relocate – but the money isn't there.

This surely tells us that climate change is on the brink of freefall, if not already past it. The US, not North Korea, is the nation humankind should fear.

Tribute to a piano expert

I WAS sorry and surprised to read in The Times Register of the death of Thomas Poole.

My dealings with him centred

RUFF: Terry Childerley's dog Toto is always optimistic when it comes to begging for a treat around the piano I bought from him in about 1981, and it's subsequent tunings. Never did I realise I was dealing with a man with such an illustrious legal career, and a man of such determination.

My piano purchase began one dark, wet and windy night. I arrived at Tom's house in Landbeach, not knowing him to be blind.

He led me confidently over the road to where he kept his pianos, unlocked the door and proceeded inside, detailing each piano with such thoroughness, I was astonished he could know so much about his charges.

The trouble was though, it was pitch-black, I could see nothing at all. Tom's patter was so intense, it was some time before I could get a word in to ask him to turn on a light.

With profuse apology, Tom wended his way among the pianos and deftly found a switch. Light at last! There before me was my "perfect piano". I still have it today.

The blame for congestion

THERE are only two groups of people to blame for congestion.

They are the councillors and planning officers, because all they seem to say is 'yes' when they should be saying a big 'no'.

As soon as a piece of land comes up they build on it. Farmland should be a strict no-go area because in time we won't be able to provide enough food for us.

They are now building thousands of houses in Waterbeach and with thousands of houses you get thousands more cars on the road.

Now they want to upgrade the A10, which will become the same as the A14, and then what will happen! One accident and everywhere comes to a standstill.

To stop this all they have to say is 'no'.

Great Ormond Street Hospital are amazing, and we too stayed with the Sick Children's Trust – without them my partner wouldn't have been able to be with us. Amazing work by donation funded organisations. I'll forever be in debt for them saving our little girl. Good luck for the future, it's a never ending battle but they're totally worth it.

Advice for pupils suffering from exam stress

PRESSURE:
The NSPCC is offering an exam-related support service

JASMINE WATKISS
@JasmineWatKissCN

THE wait for exam results day undoubtedly causes a lot of stress for young people who have just sat their GCSEs and A-levels.

With A-level results coming out today, and GCSEs out the week after on August 24, support and advice is needed now more than ever.

Childline is offering an NSPCC support service to young people who may want advice as they wait anxiously for their grades to be released.

The charity's exam-related counselling sessions rose sharply in 2016/17 – up 68 per cent in the last two years.

Young people told counsellors they were disappointed with themselves and worried their grades might affect them getting into the university or college of their choice, while others were concerned about their parent's reaction to their results.

Anxiety and low mood were also mentioned when discussing exam results, with some saying they were struggling to cope with the pressure to do well and achieve top grades.

One girl who contacted Childline said: "I am so worried about my exam results I feel sick. I studied all day and overnight for them. 'If I don't get all As I'll feel like I've let everyone down and my parents will be disappointed. I want to make them proud.'"

A teenage boy said: "I failed one of my exams and I'm so upset. I passed all of the rest but my parents are still really disappointed and have made me feel stupid and like a failure."

Childline has advice for young people waiting for exam results day:

- Don't panic if you don't get the results you were hoping for.
- You may have to make some tough decisions but remember you always have options and you can get help.
- Everyone is different so try not to compare your results to your friends or classmates.
- If you're disappointed with your results it can help to talk to a teacher or someone you trust about how you're feeling.

The NSPCC has also released advice for parents and carers.

The charity says parents should not place pressure on children to gain certain grades.

They said: "Your child may find it hard to talk to you about their results so be patient and supportive until they feel ready to open up about how they feel."

"Encourage your child to take their time to think about what they want to do next. There's no need to rush into a decision straightaway."

Children and young people can contact Childline for free, confidential support and advice, 24 hours a day on 0800 1111 or at childline.org.uk.

PROTEST

Villagers react with fury after being locked out of beauty spot

CHRIS ELLIOTT
@ChrisElliottCN

FURIOUS villagers are banding together after being locked out of a local beauty spot.

Steel fences and gates have been erected to bar people from using a network of footpaths winding through Granta Park, home to many of the Cambridge area's top research companies.

The scenic park estate at Great Abington sprawls across 160 acres, and has a network of woodland walks.

People at Great and Little Abington say residents have been allowed access to the footpaths for more than two decades, but now they have been blocked by metal gates and fences.

Earlier this week, Abington Village Institute was packed as a residents' meeting was called to discuss the clampdown, which is understood to have been authorised for security reasons.

A village spokesman said after the meeting: "There was standing room only. Villagers turned out in force to express their displeasure at the recent closure of access to Granta Park science park.

"More than 600 villagers have already signed a petition objecting to the closure. Monday's meeting ended with unanimous support for the parish team as they prepare for an open meeting on September 5, at which it is hoped that the owners of Granta Park will propose a solution to enable villagers to continue to have access while meeting the park's requirements for greater security."

PICTURESQUE: Granta Park

The chairman of the parish council, Bernie Talbot, said: "This unprecedented turnout reflects the strength of feeling following the installation of gates and fences which exclude villagers from a network of permissive footpaths that have been used and enjoyed for more than 20 years."

The News has asked Granta Park to comment, and a spokeswoman said its senior director was in the United States at present, and had been made aware of the request.

Opening dates for stores announced

RACHAEL MCMENEMY

@rach_mc9CN

OPENING dates have been announced for the first stores on Haverhill Retail Park.

Pets at Home and Home Bargains will be the first stores to open their doors at the £5 million retail park in Ehringshausen Way, bringing in a total of 63 jobs.

Pets at Home will have its grand opening on September 8, creating 13 new jobs.

The new 8,000 square foot store will include an adoption centre run by charity Support Adoption for pets; a Vets4Pets surgery and a dog grooming room.

Pets at Home Area Manager, Alice Lowe, said: "There was a strong demand from Haverhill pet owners for Pets at Home to come to town, and we're very pleased to have been able to grant them their wish."

"Pets at Home is committed to recruiting from the local area and I'm looking forward to welcoming a team of talented individuals in Haverhill."

Store manager at Haverhill, Suzie

NEW DEVELOPMENT: An artist's impression of Haverhill Retail Park in Ehringshausen Way, on the site of the former Project Office Furniture factory

Copleston, has been with Pets at Home for nearly two years, having previously worked at the Bury St Edmunds branch.

Suzie said: "It's been a busy few months, and now my team and I can't wait to open the doors and welcome our new customers and their pets to the store."

Home Bargains will open its new doors in October, and is currently offering 50 new jobs including store assistants and cleaners.

A spokesman for Home Bargains said: "While we can't confirm an opening date just yet, we are currently recruiting for store assistants and store cleaners and would encourage those interested to head to our careers website for more information."

"As a result of our constant growth, we're always looking for new staff across the country."

Grocery giant Lidl will be the last to open, bringing 40 jobs at the end of the year.

Initial plans for the development were announced back in 2015.

Companies still looking for staff

IT'S been two years in the making, and with stores set to open at Haverhill Retail Park, jobs are still available.

Although the majority of roles have been filled, there are still vacancies.

The Pets at Home store needs a salon manager for its "groom room".

Giving dogs makeovers is an unusual role, but one that can be fun and rewarding, particularly for animal lovers – and the job comes with benefits too, in addition to an annual salary of £20,000-£23,750.

The salon manager's day-to-day responsibilities during a 39-hour five-day week include obvious duties such as delivering a high standard of pet grooming, managing a small team and bringing fun to the workplace.

Applicants need to have previous experience in a pet grooming environment, with management experience too. Benefits include 28 days annual leave, with bonus days off for events including your birthday, the arrival of a new pet and moving home – and if you are celebrating a wedding or civil partnership, that rises to a whole paid week off work.

You will also receive a day's paid leave a year to work at your favourite animal-based charity.

In addition to this, you will get a colleague discount and various reward vouchers.

At Home Bargains there are 50 jobs in total available.

The company is looking for store assistants and store cleaners.

You don't need experience of working in a retail store; 18 to 20-year-olds will receive £6.43 per hour, with contracted shift hours varying from four hours over one day a week, eight hours over two, 12 over three, 16 over four and 20 over five.

For those aged 21-24, the pay rises to £7.34 per hour, while those aged over 25 will receive £7.73 per hour.

Haverhill Community Sports Association

Haverhill Rovers Football Club 2017/18

Rovers kicks off the new football season.

The new football season is upon us- and for Haverhill Rovers FC, it promises to be one of the most competitive seasons in years.

This season, the premier division has been expanded to include 24 teams, with Haverhill Rovers currently in ninth place at the time of writing. However, with a series of epic matches, including some intense local derbys, coming up, the heat is already on.

Before the end of August, Haverhill Rovers will be facing off against local teams including Ely City on Tuesday, 22nd and Newmarket Town on Tuesday, 29th. Looking further to the future, one of the fixture highlights in September will be the derby between the Rovers and Haverhill Borough on Friday 29th - which team will reign supreme?

Last season, the Rovers finished in 16th place in the league. After winning an FA Cup tie breaking match 3-1 against Hoddesdon FC at the end of the pre-season period, they are starting in a stronger position than last season, where they only went on to win 11 out of 40 games. After not qualifying past the first stage round for the last three years, there are increased stakes to the team's chances this year. But thanks to strong performances like the tie breaking match, the Rovers are now in with a good chance of improving against all the clubs they lost against last year, which will help them maintain their current position in the top half of the table.

The team's chances are helped by three new signings joining this season; Kelvin Enaro, formerly of Ely City, Cameron Watson and Aaron Forshaw, both of whom have transferred from local rivals Haverhill Borough.

To keep up to date with all the latest action from Haverhill Rovers this season, you can follow their pages on Twitter and Facebook, as well as visiting pitcheroo.com/clubs/haverhillroversfc.

THE HAVERHILL NEWS

WISHES HAVERHILL ROVERS ALL THE BEST FOR THE 2017-2018 SEASON.

Haverhill Community Sports Association

Haverhill Rovers Football Club 2017/18

The New Croft, the home of the Haverhill Community Sports Association since 2010, is a warm, welcoming venue that is home to the town's best community and sporting events.

The venue itself is most famous for the brand new all-weather 3G pitch, which is the home ground to Haverhill Borough FC. This pitch is available to hire for anybody wanting a practice session or fun kick about, with five other pitches on site.

Most impressively, the site is also home to Haverhill Rovers FC and this September, when football season is back in full swing, will see the launch of the all new Haverhill Rovers Academy.

Aimed at students in Years 12 and 13, the Academy offers sixth-form and college students a chance to study and achieve a BTEC sport level two or three qualification, as well as the chance to resit GCSE's and gain vocational sports qualifications, including level one in coaching football, first aid and referee coaching.

This unique course will see students play football most days of the week as part of the club's academy team-as well as offering future opportunities in the sports industry, as well as gaining qualifications that make them university eligible.

However, The New Croft doesn't just supporting local athletes and hosting sporting events. The site is also home to The New Croft Kitchen, which produces quality food using locally sourced produce-perfect for parties of any size, and available to be delivered to your home within 24 hours of order.

To book catering from the kitchen, call Fiona Tokley on 07951 722034 or email fionatokley@thenewcroft.co.uk

IT'S MOOMIN'

TOSSED between clawing waves with only a wooden oar and magician's top hat, Moominpappa embarks on a whimsical journey to find a distant lighthouse.

It's 34 years since I read the story of a snouty patriarch who frolics with seahorses and befriends The Groke, a desperately lonely figure scarred with a permanent scowl.

But I do recall a handwritten inscription in my copy of Moominpappa At Sea, promising the Moomins would take me on a special adventure one day.

Now I'm standing in front of a first edition illustrated book sleeve, part of a 2,000-strong collection of drawings, triptychs and related paraphernalia on rotated display at the world's only Moomin Museum, which recently opened in Tampere, a two-hour train ride north from Helsinki.

Since Finnish artist, sculptor and illustrator Tove Jansson published her first book in 1945, the magical Moominvalley has become a worldwide cult phenomenon; children are drawn to the playful, fanciful characters, while the droll humour resonates with an older audience.

Jansson's Moomin work was donated to the Tampere Art Museum in 1986, after Helsinki City Museum declined the collection on the basis it wasn't "proper art". A temporary exhibition of 100 pieces in the Tampere gallery's basement lasted for three decades, until structural damage resulted in an evacuation three years ago.

Moomin Museum Director Taina Myllyharju was given an "almost unlimited" budget to employ the best architects, artists and designers in her quest for creating a new space in the park-fringed Tampere Hill.

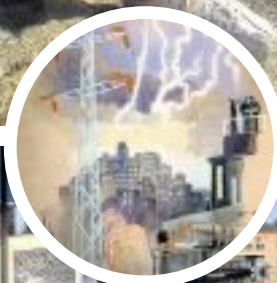

A reading library stocks the 12 Moomin books in multiple languages, and a shop sells themed postcards and stamps (conveniently, there's a postbox on site) and exclusive merchandise given the seal of approval by Tove's niece, Sophia Jansson.

"We even have the world's only Moomin conservator," Taina proudly proclaims.

Restoring the works, particularly the detailed triptychs Jansson worked on with her life partner, graphic artist Tuulikki Pietilä, was a painstaking business. Often, the women would use anything they could find lying around in the summer cottage they shared on the remote island Klovharu. These colourful 3D scenes were ephemeral snatches of imagination; they weren't designed to last.

Crossing a wasteland on spindly, insect-leg stilts, Moomintroll and Sniff stare up at a cobweb-shrouded model schooner. The Jansson family heirloom forms the centrepiece of a tableau from the apocalyptic Comet in Moominland, which critics have linked to post-war gloom and the looming spectre of nuclear attacks.

As for the delicate charcoal, pen and watercolour drawings, they will never go on loan again, she insists, and lights are kept permanently dimmed in the two-storey exhibition space to preserve them.

Under the cover of darkness, I comfortably sink into the Moomin's make-believe world, with the help of several interactive displays; inside a cavernous top hat, a projector bestows my shadow with lippy Sniff ears, and by waving my hands, I can throw bolts of lightning above a mural of ghostly, wide-eyed Hattifatteners.

From fireball comets hurtling towards Earth, to belligerent waves threatening to swallow the sky, Jansson was fascinated by the forces of nature. On her birthday, August 9, which also marked the museum's official opening, she would swim in the sea with a crown of plaited flowers around her head.

So it's fitting Tampere is a city connected to wilderness.

Two giant lakes sitting at different elevations create a source of hydroelectric power which has shaped the industrial 'Manchester of Finland'. But the environment is still respected.

MARVELLOUS

The Rauhaniemi public sauna in Tampere

Heidi Savolainen from Adventure Apes introduces me to the region's sauna culture, on a trip to Rauhaniemi, set on the birch tree-lined shores of Lake Nasijarvi.

"There is always room for one," she declares as we squeeze our peffetti (wooden sauna seats) into a narrow room heaving with sweaty flesh and plumes of steam.

Fat men with bloated, braised bellies line the benches like a coconut shy, and gasping women shake rivulets of sweat from their cleavages. It's a level of body confidence that would send shivers through most Brits.

After 20 minutes spent boiling my blood, I step outside and climb down a set of metal stairs into the crisp, satin-soft lake, where the stinging shock of cold water becomes perversely addictive. Afterwards, I follow a path into the forest, picking plump blueberries and fan-leaved wood sorrel so sharp it leaves me grimacing like The Groke.

The herb appears on my dinner plate that evening, as part of six-course taster menu at restaurant C. Ilka Isotalo and his team take pride in using ingredients sourced from a maximum 50km radius. Snowy elderflower sprays dance around a party of peas and roasted rooster, and slithers of rose petal perfume a sweet brown butter cream.

Although Jansson spent much of her time on Klovharu and visited Tampere, she lived, worked and died in Helsinki. Throughout her life, she was desperate to be taken seriously as an artist and several of her murals are on display at the Helsinki Art Museum (HAM).

In Electricity, a piece commissioned for the Pitajänmäki factory of the Stromberg company, luminous lightning veins strike just like they do above Moominvalley, and in the fresco Party In The City, a small Moomintroll hides in the corner.

In fact, the fairy-tale creatures can be found all over the capital; since December 2016, five themed Mumin Kaffes have opened, with play areas, plush toys and peaceful surroundings.

Next month, fashion label Chinti & Parker will launch a range of limited edition Moomin cashmere jumpers, and in October London's Dulwich Picture Gallery will host a major UK retrospective of Tove Jansson's work.

Clearly, Moominpappa's humble ship is setting sail for world domination, and we're all invited to jump on board. Several decades on from my first encounter with the adorable flumpy characters, it's an adventure I'm happy to embrace.

The magic returns...

FIRST event of the week is Little Red Robin Hood today at 2.30pm. It's a merry mash-up of legend and fairy-tale involving puppets, songs and a wacky old wolf (who's not too scary).

When Little Red Riding Hood cannot be found Robin Hood steps into the breach and agrees to take Grandma her cakes and flowers. Will he stay on the path or will he discover the wolf (who looks a bit like the Sheriff of Nottingham)? Garlic Theatre presents a funny, slapstick, glove puppet show with beautifully crafted puppets, clowning and gentle humour.

On Friday, August 25, we have The Hairy Maclary and Friends Show at 1.30pm and 4pm. The scruffy black dog and his friends, the dachshund Schnitzel von Krumm, the dalmatian Bottomley Potts, the old English sheepdog Muffin McClay go on many an adventure, it sounds a bit like the Famous Five but with lashings of bones rather than ginger beer.

The books by Lynley Dodd provide the inspiration and the tom-cat Scar-Face Claw provides the element of danger.

With barely a second to catch his breath after his recent rambles in Hampstead, Brendan Gleeson stars again in Alone in Berlin, this time with Emma Thompson. It's the story of a working class couple in Berlin who rebel against Hitler's regime by engaging in the risky activity of circulating anti-nazi postcards around the city. In a change to the brochure, on Thursday, August 24, the Arts Centre is showing Harry Potter and the Chamber of Secrets. Watch the magic on the big screen and dress up if you want to.

Things are quieter than normal at the Arts Centre at this time of year, but the town council has held a number of free events around town – the last of which is on Saturday, August 19, for Great Big Tribute Night 2.

The performers storming the stage will be Little Mixture (A Little Mix tribute), Swinging with the Stars (popular swing/big band music) and A Night at the Movies (all the best songs from all the films including Mamma Mia and Dirty Dancing).

Events coming soon are Titus Andronicus (Wednesday, August 30, 7pm, previously recorded) Shakespeare's gory revenge tragedy which poses questions about sexuality, family, class and society; Yerma (Thursday, August 31, live broadcast) in which Billie Piper stars as a woman driven to the unthinkable by her desperate desire to have a child and music from Live/Wire The AC/DC Show (Friday, September 1) and Wrong Stewart and the Farces (Friday, September 8).

● Thursday, August 17 – 2.30pm: Little Red Robin Hood.

● Friday, August 18 – 7.30pm: Alone in Berlin (12A).

● Thursday, August 24 – 10.30am: Harry Potter and the Chamber of Secrets (PG).

● Friday, August 25 – 1.30pm, 4pm: The Hairy Maclary and Friends Show.

Sensational Alpina super saloon will top 200mph

THE latest Alpina super saloon made its first appearance at the Geneva Motor Show earlier this year and a lucky few in the UK can now get their hands on the sensational 205mph motor for £115,000 – a relative snip in the supercar world.

It comes with an Alpina-optimised 4.4-litre V8 engine, delivering 608bhp, up from 600bhp for the Geneva show car, and 800 Nm of punch, so the new B7 Bi-Turbo joins the exclusive group of cars with 200mph-plus performance.

The Alpina B7 Bi-Turbo, designed to be the world's fastest four-door production car, is an evolution of the latest BMW 7-Series and at the heart of the super saloon is a heavily-revised, direct injection V8 breathing through two specially-developed, twin-scroll turbochargers.

To help achieve this impressive combination of performance, comfort and driving dynamics, Alpina's 70-strong engineering team has received exceptional access to BMW design data and technical facilities as part of a relationship that reaches back to 1964, when BMW endorsed the quality of Alpina products by awarding the full factory guarantee to BMW vehicles fitted with the new Alpina dual carburettor system.

It comes with an eight-speed automatic transmission from supplier ZF which can be controlled manually using buttons on the steering wheel.

B7 Bi-Turbos destined for the UK are long-wheelbase models with air suspension, active rear steering, which turns the rear wheels a maximum of three degrees the opposite way to the front wheels at low speeds and the same way at higher speeds.

For the UK the Bi-Turbo is available only with rear wheel drive. In this specification, the new motor will accelerate to 60mph in just 4.0 seconds.

Alpina GB brand manager Gary Lott said: "Not long ago, only the most focussed million pound hypercars could touch 200mph. Where road conditions allow, owners of the new B7 Bi-Turbo can cruise long distances at that legendary speed, with friends and family in considerable comfort."

A SNIP: BMW 7-Series based Alpina comes in at £115,000

BIRTHDAY: Fiat Anniversario

Fiat's iconic 500 has its 60 anniversary

TO mark the 60th anniversary of one of the world's most iconic little cars, Fiat has released a special edition of the 500 called the Anniversario.

Priced from £14,265, the Fiat 500 Anniversario is available in both hatch and cabrio body styles with the open top version priced from £16,865.

Finished in either Riviera Green or Sicilia Orange, the car is a tribute to the 1957 Italian-made icon with a modern re-interpretation of some of the features that made it famous in the Dolce Vita years.

The special model is powered by Fiat's 1.2-litre 69hp petrol engine which has a claimed fuel return of 60.1mpg with a CO₂ figure of 110g/km CO₂. When combined with a Dualogic semi-auto gearbox emissions fall to 105g/km, while returning 62.8mpg.

This new special series has a Sixties look that references some of the key historic characteristics of the car, such as chrome accents on the bonnet and door mirror caps, vintage Fiat logos and 16-inch vintage alloy wheels.

SPORTY: Bentley Flying Spur

Flying Spur special – none more black

A SPECIAL edition of the Bentley Flying Spur is being released with highlights on the car's sporty credentials.

The Flying Spur Black Edition is powered by a 4.0-litre V8 engine developing 528ps and its body styling features dark tinted lights, black gloss brightwork and 21-inch alloy wheels with either black or red brake callipers.

Performance figures for the all-wheel-drive Flying Spur are 0 to 60mph in 4.6 seconds with a top speed of 190mph.

Prices for the special Flying Spur V8 S start from £148,900.

ITALIAN sports car company Abarth is continuing its run of limited edition models with a special version of the 695 hot hatch to mark its tie up with Yamaha motorcycles.

As the official car supplier to the Yamaha Factory racing team in this year's MotoGP World Championship, Abarth has released the 695 XSR Yamaha decked out with an exclusive grey paint job.

With red body highlights and plenty of use of carbon fibre, it mimics the finish Yamaha is using on its XSR900 motorcycle.

The XSR Yamaha is being restricted to a run of 695 hatchbacks and a further 695 cabriolets priced from £20,360 and £22,360.

Powered by a 1.4-litre turbo T-Jet petrol engine and mated to a five speed manual gearbox, the XSR Yamaha has a 0 to 60 time of 7.3 seconds, tops out at 135mph and is rated at 47.1mpg with emissions of 139g/km.

Special features include an Akrapovic exhaust system and Abarth's onboard telemetry system as well as a seven-inch Uconnect display screen.

Other high end style cues include Alcantara trim in the sports seat, a carbon-effect dash, metal pedals and the 695 XSR sits on 17-inch alloys.

There's also a numbered plaque to denote its exclusivity.

SPECIAL: Abarth's Yamaha-styled 695 hot hatch

VW's Arteon flagship set for September sale

VOLKSWAGEN'S new flagship, the Arteon, will be in showrooms in September and is ready to be ordered now, priced from £34,305.

The Arteon has sleek coupe styling and sits above the Passat in the Volkswagen range. It's able to carry five people in considerable comfort with, according to VW, best-in-class legroom of 1,016 mm. Luggage space is 563 litres with the rear seats in place, rising to 1,557 litres of available carrying capacity when the rear seats are folded.

The Arteon range will initially feature three turbo charged direct injection engines: a 280bhp 2.0 TSI petrol and two 2.0 TDI diesel engines with outputs of 240bhp and 150bhp.

In due course, additional engines will complete the range including Volkswagen's newly designed 150bhp 1.5 TSI Evo unit, featuring economy-boosting cylinder deactivation technology, and a 190bhp 2.0 TSI.

All the transversely mounted four cylinder engines can be combined with an automated DSG dual clutch seven-speed gearbox while the most potent units also feature Volkswagen 4MOTION all-wheel drive as standard.

As far as performance and economy goes, the Arteon will sprint from 0-62mph in 5.4 seconds in 2.0 TSI 280bhp guise, while the 2.0 TDI 150bhp-equipped Arteon will offer 62.8 mpg in the EU's official combined fuel economy measure.

Arteon's kit includes the latest infotainment and connectivity.

It is offered in two trim levels, Elegance or the sporting R-Line, and among the many highlights are the latest Discover navigation system with eight-inch colour touchscreen, eight-speaker sound system, Bluetooth audio and telephone connectivity and Volkswagen Media Control which allows remote control of the infotainment system via compatible smartphone or tablet device.

Assistance systems in every Arteon include: adaptive cruise control with predictive cruise control, city emergency braking, front assist, speed assist, traffic jam assist, lane assist and driver alert fatigue warning system.

Volkswagen head of marketing in the UK, Geraldine Ingham says: "We are very excited to make the stunning new Arteon available to UK customers."

"This new flagship model represents a significant step forward in design, technology and, indeed, aspiration and we are confident that the Arteon will more than meet the high expectations of our customers."

"With a selection of engines available to order now – and more engine options on the way – we are also looking forward to seeing the Arteon make inroads into the important fleet sector in due course."

Riders and horses excel on 'flowing course' at Horseheath

Eventing

THERE was double success for Mollie Harris over the weekend as Horseheath welcomed 460 competitors to its third British Eventing-affiliated event.

It was another greatly-anticipated event for both riders and organisers alike – and ample rainfall in the weeks heading to the event aided the commendable efforts of the ground maintenance team, meaning competitors were treated to near-perfect going.

Harris won both the NFU Mutual-sponsored Section H (BE90) and Andrew Hodge Contracting-backed Section K of the BE80(T). She also competes in Working Hunter classes and enjoyed a win at the Horse of the Year Show in the 133cm class.

Serena Kullich, who won BE100, sponsored by PwC, in which she was also placed fourth with another ride, commented on the "nice flowing course with really good ground".

Summer Nicholls, 16, the winner of BE100 Section A with Alfie XXVI, was delighted with her win, which will allow her to go forward to compete in the BE100 regional final. From there she is hoping to qualify for the Mitsubishi Motors Cup, held annually at Badminton Horse Trials.

The warm weather did not stop competitors making a splash through the NFU Mutual-sponsored water feature, which comprised a brightly-coloured boat-shaped jump, through the water and out over the Duck Plumbing wishing well for the BE90 and BE100 competitors.

Indie Vaughan-Jones

posted a win with Cool Blue, owned by Annie Borrett. Indie has forged a successful eventing career, having ridden up to 2* and is a working pupil for Ros Canter. She particularly enjoyed the "flowing and galloping stretches of the course".

Rosie Hull was successful in the BE80(T) class with a win on Master Comic. Hull started out as a point-to-point rider, with her first competitive race at Horseheath Racecourse some 10 years ago, so it was a special win for her.

As with previous events, the entry charge at Horseheath is donated to two local charities and this year the beneficiaries were East Anglian Air Ambulance and Maggie's Centre Cambridge – two fantastic causes providing the very best care and support to the east region and beyond.

At the final prizegiving of the weekend, Rosie Oxlade was successful in Section N of the Andrew Hodge Contracting-sponsored BE80(T) class.

Oxlade has not evented for two years, so was ecstatic to make her comeback a winning one.

She hopes to progress to competing at BE90 and some JAS (Jumping and Style) classes through the winter. These are a great alternative to riders through the winter months.

Run chase falls short at leaders

HAVERHILL suffered a 56-run defeat by Marshall Hatchick Two Counties Championship, Division One leaders Elmstead.

Haverhill skipper Adam Dellar won the toss and chose to bowl, and the decision paid off early on as Harry Harding took two early wickets.

Elmstead were at 64 for 3 at the halfway stage but began to accelerate and eventually finished on 210 for 9.

Haverhill's reply started slowly, with Dellar (35) and Anthony Phillips (18) taking their time against an accurate attack.

However, after a middle-order collapse, Haverhill's hopes of victory evaporated and the innings closed on 154.

"Although we were playing the top side in the division we were very much in the game for large parts," said Dellar. "In the run chase we lost wickets at the wrong time and ultimately fell short in the end."

Golf

Stokes takes coveted title

FIONA Stokes won Haverhill Ladies' Club Championship, off scratch, with rounds of 84 and 80. She just edged out Mandy Williamson (80, 85) by one shot.

In the medal format Pam Ratford Trophy, Lynne Hart, with a superb nett 70, emerged the winner, four shots clear of second-placed Pat Kennedy.

Palmer nets twice as Rovers ease to victory

HAVERHILL Rovers eased to a 4-1 win over Godmanchester Rovers in the Thurlow Nunn League, Premier Division on Wednesday.

Luke Haines opened the scoring early on before Jordan Palmer made it 2-0 from the penalty spot.

Aaron Forshaw made it 3-0 before half time. A second Palmer penalty made it 4-0 before Godmanchester scored a consolation goal in stoppage time.

On Saturday, Rovers were in fine form as they won by the same score-line at Kirkley & Pakefield.

Football

Haines fired Rovers into a 1-0 lead at half time, and Ben Bradley made it 2-0 early in the second half.

Cameron Watson extended the lead to 3-0 and Palmer converted a penalty to make it 4-0 before the hosts netted a consolation.

Haverhill Borough fell victim to a smash-and-grab raid by visitors Ely City as they succumbed to a 2-1 defeat on Tuesday.

Borough took a deserved lead in the first half through Charlie Holmes and it remained 1-0 at half time. The visitors were dealt a blow when injured goalkeeper Harry Reynolds had to be replaced by Ben Mayhew in the second half, but the substitute did well to deny Ryan Swallow and Casey Phillips.

Then in the 75th minute, Ely's Jonathan Brown netted an equaliser.

Borough piled on the pressure in response, with Craig Pruden and Jarid Robson going close. And when an injury to Dan Jeffrey left Ely with 10 men, it looked as though there would be only one winner.

Borough pressed forward, with Robson missing a chance to score, but it was Ely who snatched all three points when Alex Theobald rifled home.

The loss followed a 3-0 defeat at home to Stanway Rovers last Friday.

Borough made a bright start, with Ryan Weaver twice going close.

But a counter-attack saw Stanway take the lead and, after Swallow missed a good chance to equalise, Rovers netted their second.

Pruden and Holmes had chances to score but Stanway added a third and ran out deserved winners.
